The just Monarch.

A Poor Villager complained to Mahmoud, Sultan of Damascus, that a young Turk of Distinction had broke into his House, and insulted him so, that he was forc'd to abandon it, with his Wife and Family, to the shameful Abuses of that bold Intruder, who afterwards escaped, and remain'd unknown. The Sultan very much moved, charg'd the Sufferer to come immediately and give him Notice, if ever that Turk should repeat the Insult; which he did three Days after, and the poor Man complained to the Sultan accordingly, who taking a few Attendants, immediately went with him. It was Night when they came to the House, but the Sultan ordered all the Lights to be put out; then rush'd boldly in, and with his Sabre cut the Ravisher in pieces. After which, he order'd a Torch to be lighted, and looking on the Face of the Malefactor, immediately with an Air of Joy, fell down on the Ground and praised God. When he rose, he bid the Man of the House bring out what Victuals he had, which was only some stale brown Bread and Butter-milk, of which the Sultan eat and drank heartily; and then being ready to return, at the poor Man's Request, explain'd all the mysterious Circumstances of this Action, as follows:

You must know, said he, that upon hearing this Complaint, and the Description of the Criminal you gave me, I concluded he could be no other than my own Son: Therefore, least my Eyes should suborn my Heart, and the Tenderness of Nature should enervate the Arm of Justice; I resolv'd, thro' the undistinguishing Veil of Night to give it a Scope. But when I beheld it was not he, but only an Officer of my Guard, I fell down with Gladness to give Thanks unto God that my own Offspring had not in this Affair deserved my Wrath, nor met with my Vengeance: And after all, I asked what Provision you had at Hand, to satisfy my Hunger, and repair this fleshly Frame, which my Resentment would not suffer me to gratify either with Sleep or Sustenance, from the Moment I heard this Accusation, till I had punished the Author of your Wrongs, and shew'd myself worthy of my People's Obedience: For this one Example shall make it known among them, that you have a Prince, under whom there is no Sufferer so mean, who need fear to be denied Redress; and no Offender so great, as may hope to escape Punishment.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

R O M E, Sept. 20.

THE Pope had a private Conference two Days since with the Cardinals Corridini and Pico, on the long depending Affair of Cardinal Coscia, on which Occasion the Congregation De Nonnullis will meet extraordinary on the 26th, together with the Cardinals, who have assisted at the several Examinations of his Eminency, in order to discuss the Matter, and make a Report thereof to his Holiness. Mean while the Articles of Impeachment have been delivered to the Cardinal, and also to the Cardinals nominated to compose the Congregation which is to be held in the Presence of his Holiness, where his Eminency's Cause will be tried and determined. The Governor of Nettuno is committed to Prison by the Pope's special Order; and the Curate of St. Eringono banished at Rome, for having suggested groundless Insinuations to the Cardinal Vicar.

The Chevalier de St. George being upon his Departure for his Country Seat, took Leave of his Holiness on Tuesday last, who made him a Present thereon of a Bill of 9000 Scudi.

Geneva, Sept. 27. A Party of the Smugglers of Dauphiny appeared a few Days since upon our Territories: They had been attacked by a Detachment of Soldiers from the Garrison of Chambery, under the Command of a Lieutenant; but being superior in Number came off victorious: They said to be in all above 7000. and that their main Body is posted in such inaccessible Parts of the Mountains, that the Count de Maillebois, sent by his most Christian Majesty to disperse them, can as yet give no Account of them.

L O N D O N, Oct. 30.

We are advised from Lisbon the 28th past, N.S. That they had received the following most dreadful News, viz. That what they call a Thunder-bolt, had penetrated thro' the Tower of the City of Campo Mayor, (on the Frontiers next Spain, well Garrison'd) in which a Magazine of Powder and Warlike Stores were kept, there being then in it 182400 weight of Gunpowder, 400 Shells filled, &c. which the Lightning set fire to, by which the greatest Part of the City was in an Instant laid in Ruins, no more than the one half of 2 Streets being left standing; above 1000 Persons were miserably shattered and torn, and many deem'd incurable. The Number buried under the Rubbish was unknown, but was undoubtedly very great, above 300 having been dug up before the Accounts came off. On Receipt of this News, the King of Portugal sent all the Surgeons, Apothecaries, &c. that could be found in Lisbon, to take Care of those wretched People.

From Constantinople, That every Thing there seem'd ripe for a new Insurrection; that the People were put into continual Frights by the seditious Carriage and Insolence of the Janizaries; and the Grand Seignior was assembling an Army of 30,000 Men at the City Gates, for his own Security, in which Body there was not to be one Janizary.

From Seville. The Court has given Orders for embarking 16 Companies of Grenadiers, 2 Battalions of the Regiment of Arragon, and 4000 Horse, immediately for Oran; from whence they write, that the Moorish Army before that Place was augmented to 40,000 Men.

From Frankfurt. The Accounts received here, for these 10 or 12 Days past, of the Damages sustained in several Parts of Franconia, but chiefly near the Tauber and the Main, by Floods and Inundations, surpass all Imagination. At Wertheim, 25 Houses were born down and washed quite away; one side of the great Hospital, built of Stone, was carried away by the Force of the Water, together with the Church; and in that Place alone, above 200 Tons of Wine were destroyed. At Schwabach, one of the best Towns in the Marquisate of Brandenburg Anspach, part of the strong thick Town-wall, and the whole Tower where the Gunpowder was kept, were forced to give way to the Torrent, which raged under as well as above Ground; & the fall of that Tower made the most frightful Crash that ever was heard. In Bischofsheim, &c. the Water rose quite to the Roofs of the Houses, and drowned Man and Beast: Nay the very wild Beasts could not escape. Household Goods, and Furniture of all sorts; Corn, Wine, Beer, and other Provisions; Houses, Barns, Walls, Mills, Stone-Bridges, &c. were born down, mix'd all together, and beat to pieces: Gardens, Fields, Meadows and Vineyards were in some places 2 Yards thick in Mud and Sand, and great Trees torn up by the Roots: Many Fields and Meadows are half covered with dead Bodies of Men and Beasts; others with the fragments of Houses, Furniture, Planks, the Wheels of Mills, &c. Abundance of dead Bodies were found clinging to the Boughs of Trees, some even in Bushes, & others hanging to the Wheels of Water-Mills. Ships and other Vessels, Ship-Mills, Floats of Timber, &c. lying upon the Rivers, were carried quite away.

From Madrid. The Preparations for a considerable Armament both by Sea and Land, are carrying on with all Vigour thro' this Monarchy, and 'tis reckoned they will be finished by next Spring. The Army which is to be assembled against that Time, will amount to 40,000 Men; every Parish in the Kingdom being to furnish 5 Men, to recruit the old Regiments, and to form new. 'Tis written from Cadiz, that 4 French Men of War were arrived there, belonging to a Company erected in France, to fish up the Effects of the Ships of the Spanish Flota destroyed at Vigo, in the Year 1702, by Virtue of the Permission they have obtained from his Catholick Majesty, in consideration of an Indulto at 15 per Cent. of all the Effects they shall so fish up.

Wednesday, Oct. 4. The Marquis de Montejun, Ambassador from the Court of Spain, passed thro' this City with a splendid Train, to his House in Feryn-Street, St. James's. This Minister, with his Lady, were brought over from Calais in the Hound, one of the new built Sloops, Capt. George Selater, Commander.

Thursday, 5. The Spanish Ambassador went to Kensington, was introduced to his Majesty, and delivered his Credentials. He was afterwards introduced to the Queen.

Sunday, 22. At a Dissenting Congregation in Paul's Alley near Barbican, a Collection was made for the poor Protestant Saltzburghers, forced out of their Country for their Religion, amounting to about 60l.

Monday, 30. This being the Anniversary of his Majesty's Birth-day, there was a great Appearance of the Nobility and foreign Ministers at Court, to Compliment his Majesty, who then enter'd into the 50th Year of his Age.

John Barber, Esq; Lord Mayor elect, went up with the usual State to the Exchequer Bar at Westminster, and was sworn Lord Mayor of London for the Year ensuing, with the accustomed Ceremony.

'Tis assured, that the Parliament will sit the 9th of January.

On the 5th Inst. there was a meeting of the Trustees for settling the new Colony of Georgia, when the Rev. Dr. Bundy, took his Place at the Board for the first Time; they sat 'till near 10 at Night; and upon the pressing Necessity of the People, came to a Resolution to send 70 Persons thither the Beginning of next month, being all that their Fund will afford to send as yet. A man applied this Week to James Ogletborp, Esq; one of the Trustees, for himself and poor Family, to be sent to the said Colony; but was told, there was no room to send him for want of a sufficient Fund: But Archibald Hutchinson, Esq; happening to be present, and hearing the great Lamentations of the poor Man, paid the Charge for the sending him and Family to Georgia, which was 30 l. Yesterday the Trustees met again, and called over the Names of the Persons appearing there in order to be sent over to Georgia.

James Oglethorp, Esq, is appointed Governor of the New Colony of Georgia.
